

1 February 2016

PRESS RELEASE

THE WORLD RADIO DAY AT VILLA MÉDITERRANÉE

Saturday 13 February at 6 pm
At Villa Méditerranée
Esplanade Robert Laffont (J4) – Marseille

In the framework of the global celebrations of the UNESCO World Radio Day, the Villa Méditerranée together with COPEAM mobilize and give the floor to some media players in times of emergency and disaster.

13 February, the World Radio Day on the theme «Radio in times of emergency and disaster»: an occasion to foster the international cooperation, to encourage major networks and community radios to promote access to information, freedom of expression and gender equality on air.

The special evening organised at the Villa Méditerranée will start at 6 pm with the screening of the documentary Good Night Sarajevo by Olivier Algora and Edu Marin (2014) which will be followed by a roundtable about the conflict in Bosnia and Herzégovine and the role of the radio and the media in disaster and conflict areas and in the rebuilding process.

Speakers:

- Nedim Loncarevic, journalist, documentary filmmaker
- Rémy Ourdan, war correspondent, reporter for Le Monde, documentary filmmaker and president of the WARM Foundation on contemporary conflicts
- Emmanuel Bouterin, president of AMARC (World Association of Community Radios)
- Jocelyn Grange, senior expert for MedMedia
- Emmanuel Vergès et Nelly Flecher from Radio Grenouille

Moderator: Sébastien Nègre, radio development, journalist

Partners: COPEAM, UNESCO, CineHorizontes, Festival de cinéma espagnol de Marseille.

Contacts presse :

Fabienne Vernet : 04 95 09 44 21/07 88 45 67 91/fvernet@villa-mediterranee.org
Guillaume ORTIOU-CAMPION - gortioucampion@copeam.org